Bylaws of the Backcountry Horsemen of California, Inc.

The members of the Backcountry Horsemen of California are dedicated to preserving the public's traditional use of recreational saddle and pack stock in the backcountry. Through education we encourage our members and the public at large to use public lands backcountry and wilderness resources.

Horses and mules have played an important role in American culture and our western heritage. Therefore, the Backcountry Horsemen of California organization promotes the common sense use and enjoyment with saddle and pack stock in the backcountry of California.

In cooperation with various governmental agencies Backcountry Horsemen of California is dedicated to preserving and maintaining the backcountry wilderness for future generations to enjoy and to use saddle and pack stock in a backcountry wilderness environment.

For current detailed bylaws for 501c3 and 501c4 please go to BCHCALIFORNIA.ORG

Strategic Plan

The purpose of strategic planning is to set overall goals for our organization and to develop a plan to achieve them. It involves stepping back from our day-to-day operations and asking where our organization is headed and what its priorities should be. It gives us a sense of direction with measurable goals plus a means to evaluate our progress even if we change our approach while moving forward.

The strategic planning process also helps you uncover ways to improve performance. It can, for instance, spark insights about how to restructure your organization so that it can reach its full potential.

Here are the top benefits of strategic planning:

- It allows organizations to be proactive rather than reactive. ...
- It sets up a sense of direction.
- It increases operational efficiency.
- It can make an organization more durable.

So all that above is the “why” we undertook to develop our BCHC strategic plan. Now we are asking each and every unit to partake of all that goodness and tell us how they are doing reaching our goals.

Using BCHC Name and Logo

The name "Backcountry Horsemen" identifies an organization that promotes safe and responsible use in the back country throughout the United States. Members of the BCHC are expected to practice "Leave No Trace" and Leave No Trace principles in use of public lands and to be knowledgeable of the regulations and policies that apply to such activities.

The use of the name Backcountry Horsemen carries with it an obligation to adhere to the objectives of the BCHC and to practice the "Leave No Trace Ethics" and Leave No Trace principles advocated by the organization. The name or its logos must never be used for purposes other than to promote the goals of the organization in a responsible manner in conformation with the policies established by the State Board. Any question of propriety should be addressed to the State Board prior to any use of the name or logos on private articles or on letterheads used in communicating personal opinions to agencies or other organizations.

Individual members are encouraged to be active and express their own opinions concerning issues of importance to back country users. Any view of an individual expressed as a representative of the organization must be approved by the BCHC Executive Committee, especially if there is any doubt about whether the statement conforms to the policies of the Backcountry Horsemen of California.

Structure of BCHC

The Backcountry Horsemen of California is incorporated in the state of California as an IRS 501C4 and a 501C3. 501C4 is an organization of people who share a common interest as a non-profit organization. A 501C3 is a charitable non-profit organization. Both of these IRS definitions are member less set-ups. Membership belongs to the units only. Members are individuals from throughout the state that have formed an association dedicated to preserve the use of pack and saddle stock on trails, camps and forage wherever such use was historic and significant. The Backcountry Horsemen of California is governed by a Board of Directors made up of members from each local Unit. The State Board elects a President, two Vice Presidents, Vice Presidents of Public Lands, Education, Membership and Youth Education, Secretary, Treasurer and two delegates to the National Board of the Backcountry Horsemen of America.

Historical Information

Spring of 1985 - Representatives of The High Sierra Stock Users and Back Country Horsemen from Idaho, Montana and Washington met in Washington State to initiate the formation of the Back Country Horsemen of America.

Bylaws were approved and policy statements drafted. Lloyd Fagerland of Montana was elected Charter Chairman for the organization. The meeting was held in conjunction with the BCHW state convention. California Representatives were Everett Welch and Charles Morgan. Later Board representatives included: Max Cochran, Jim Wells, Mylon Filkins, Dick Cochran, Ann Lange and Alan Hill.

The first BCHC rendezvous (convention) was held at the Convention Center in Visalia, California on April 15 and 16, 1988. There were only 6 Units organized at that time which were: Tulare-Kings (now High Sierra), Kern (now Kern Sierra), Kern River Valley, San Joaquin, Merced, Madera (now San Joaquin Sierra), Mother Lode and the newly formed Mid Valley. In order to finance the convention each Unit was asked to commit $100 for a booth space. This provided the start-up money. The event was deemed a success and the format with only minor variation remains the same today.

In November of 1985, the first state newsletter was published in Springville, California. It was called "SIERRA TRAILS" and covered, among other items, the California Wilderness Conference. Other names appearing on the masthead have been "Road Apples" 1989 and "Backcountry News" since 1992.

Bishop Mule Days naturally attracted members of the newly formed High Sierra Unit when Jim Harvey of Exeter, who had served as a judge at the event, decided to lead a team of stock user women into competition at the annual event. The team did quite well which led to the first men's team entering into the competitive arena in 1983.

Harvey and his stalwart team of packers have represented the organization very well over the years. Over the course of the past 14 years they have won the West Side competition nine times and twice was able to win it all - the World Champion Mule Packing Competition. The team has also brought home many trophies with its parade pack train.

The team has become the darling of the announcers at the event and the value of publicity thus given BCHC cannot be measured. The thousands of people who attend the annual Bishop Mule Days Celebration leave well aware of the Backcountry Horsemen of California!

In 1997 the Antelope Valley Unit had a contingent of colorful riders at Bishop. In recent years, including 1999, the Mid Valley Unit also entered a competition pack team that performed quite well.

Backcountry Horsemen of California is indeed well represented at this highly visible event!

National Director Position for BCHC

Backcountry Horsemen of California (BCHC) currently sends two people to represent California as voting directors to the national board meeting (NBM) of Back Country Horsemen of America (BCHA). The NBM is held the third week of April each year at a host city picked at least a year in advance. The position of National Director is an elected position with one director being chosen each fall at the BCHC fall board meeting typically in mid-October..

Report to BCHA

There is a general sense that each state should report to the national organization about what is been happening in their state over the course of the last year. Video slide shows from the states are presented during the meeting for all to see and this is usually a fun highlight.

Another option that has been used in the past was to get advance order of the BCHC Newsletter for all Directors and staff.

Structure of the NBM

The agenda and structure of the NBM meeting is evolving, with initial details going via email out 60-90 days in advance. ND's are expected to make their travel and lodging accommodations. Official meetings are scheduled for three days, sometimes an extra day of activities are planned for directors. Committee meetings are an important part of the NBM. These are separate breakout sessions that directors are expected to sign up for one or more committees. A chairman for each committee is chosen (if not already selected), a quick agenda created, and usually the committee works to create an action item or two for later in the meeting

NBM Recap to BCHC Membership

BCHC will reimburse costs of travel, lodging and required expenses during the trip to the NBM, but receipts need to be kept organized and presented to the BCHC Treasurer. There is a responsibility to offer a written report, perhaps with pictures, to be used in the BCHC state newsletter. An oral report to the BCHC Executive Committee and Unit Directors is also expected, and it can be an informal personal perspective or more itemized run down depending on the content and director's preference. This report has been an agenda item at each BCHC Executive Committee and BCHC Board Meeting.

Monthly conference calls or zoom calls are used to keep directors informed about BCHC activities and for directors to inform national directors of any state activities.

Emails are used on an as needed basis to keep directors informed of ongoing activities.

The National Directors provide a two-way conduit of information between the BCHC and BCHC. Concerns of BCHC are brought forward for guidance and direction and BCHC relates new information from across the Nation to California.

Unit Policies

The individual Units of the Backcountry Horsemen of California operate under the State Board Officers and the State Board Directors. Each Unit must recognize and abide by Bylaws and policies of the BCHC State Board of Directors in addition to the BCHC Constitution. All individual Units are required, as a condition of admission to membership on the State Board, to adopt Bylaws that are consistent with the Bylaws of the Backcountry Horsemen of California and all its revisions past, present and future. Any amendment to individual Unit Bylaws must be submitted to and approved by the Backcountry Horsemen of California State-Executive Board.

Units are expected to send at least one delegate to each meeting of the Backcountry Horsemen of California State Board. The Backcountry Horsemen of California Bylaws provide for the suspension, by vote of the State Board, of any Unit that fails to be represented at two consecutive Backcountry Horsemen of California State Board meetings. The Board may also take action to suspend any Unit that becomes ineffective or does not abide by its own or the BCHC Bylaws. A Unit may be considered ineffective by any or all the following:

- Failure to have regular meetings.
- When their total membership drops below 10 members.

- Failure to elect officers on an annual basis.

The BCHC Unit assets are dedicated to public benefit purposes. No part of the earnings, properties or assets of the Unit upon dissolution of the Unit may go to benefit an individual or member or officer. All properties shall be distributed to a nonprofit fund, foundation or corporation, organized or operated exclusively for charitable purposes and has established exempt status under Internal Revenue Service Code 501C3.

Communication

Backcountry Horsemen was founded to present a united front for recreational stock users against those that wish to see riders and their stock excluded from using California trails and back country. To achieve even a semblance of unity there must be communication. All levels of the organization must communicate to be effective: within the Unit, within the State Board, between the Units, between the Units and the Executive Committee, and between the administrators of the public lands and the Backcountry Horsemen of California.

Your position as an officer in the organization carries with it an obligation and responsibility to practice good communication habits. When asked for a response at any level, it should be given as soon as possible and as completely as possible. The format of the response is not as important as the reply itself - a scribbled note, a phone call, an email, or a formal letter all serve the same - the information it contains is the essential part. Let's all work together and help achieve the unity that is required for us to be a successful organization.

Responsibilities of the Unit officers

Unit President

- The President must be aware of parliamentary rules and procedure and have a thorough understanding of the Bylaws of the BCHC as well as those of his/her Unit. In addition, the President should be aware of special rules or policies. It is suggested that the President learn and practice good diplomacy during his/her term of office.

- The President should prepare and distribute an agenda for each meeting which should be adhered to as closely as possible. The President should rely on Robert's Rules of Order as a guide in conducting meetings. In addition, the President must be prepared to:
 - Explain and decide all questions of order.
 - Consider only one motion at a time and state all motions properly.
 - Not allow any debate on a motion before the motion is seconded and restated. Should encourage debate and assign the floor to those properly entitled to it. If there are others that wish to speak, no member may speak twice on the same question until all have spoken one time.
 - Put all motions to vote and state the result of the election. President only votes in the event there is a tie.
 - Stand while stating the question and taking a vote but remain seated during discussion or report.
 - Be fair and impartial in all matters under discussion.
 - Be knowledgeable about Bylaws and abide by them.
- The President must perform other duties as they are defined by the Bylaws.
- Upon election, it is suggested that the President meet with officers and discuss plans for the months ahead and concerning the appointment of Chairpersons for the standing committees.
- The Vice Presidents should be assigned definite responsibilities.
- A schedule should be prepared, i.e., a Calendar of Events arranged by month, of all important dates, events, functions, and meetings arranged in chronological order. List what needs to be done.
- Minutes of the previous meeting should be reviewed with the Secretary and necessary corrections made in advance of the meeting.

- Skillful use of committees will greatly lighten the workload of an executive. Delegation of duties also results in getting more members involved in the business of the organization.
- Submit annual unit report
- Top Hand award submission to state treasurer

Unit Vice President(s)

- To perform the duties of the President when the President is absent.
- To perform duties as outlined by the Bylaws or designated by the President or general policies. Possible duties might include but not be limited to Membership, Speakers, Programs and Hospitality and Insurance
- At State level, the 1st VP will act as the BCHC Insurance Director. It is strongly recommended at a Unit Level that the VP act as the Unit Insurance Director. (see page 42 for more insurance information)
- In some Units all major Committee Chairs are elected as Vice Presidents (Service, Liaison, Membership, and Education). These Vice Presidents are charged with organizing and conducting the functions of each major committee.
- Some Units have a First and Second Vice President with corresponding responsibilities according to policy and Bylaws of the individual Units.
- Submit insurance policy with projected dates to State first VP

Unit Secretary

- In coordination with the President prepare and distribute an agenda for each meeting.
- Report on all correspondence received or sent out. Answer all correspondence as directed by the officers as necessary
- Maintain a sign-in list of members present at the meeting. Note any officers who are absent.

- After the meeting, prepare the minutes and share them with the President for review. File agenda, minutes and sign-in list in the secretary notebook.
- Read the minutes of the previous meeting and make any corrections as brought up. President should ask for approval of minutes. Note on minutes any corrections and the date of approval.
- When there is a motion on the floor write the name of the maker of a motion and the person who seconded the motion. Record the result of the vote (Motion carried – Motion did not carry). It is not necessary to put the vote count unless it is very close, and you are requested to do so.
- If the President and Vice President are not in attendance, the Secretary should call the meeting to order and motion that a chairman pro-tem be selected immediately to run the meeting.
- Complete any duties as assigned by the President and bylaws of the Unit.
- Maintain a notebook of all documents belonging to the Unit including, agendas, minutes, sign-in lists, treasurer reports, correspondence, bylaws, bylaw amendments, flyers, etc. Notebook(s) is to be passed on when your term of office is complete. If newly elected, you should seek this information from the previous secretary. All notebooks from previous years should be kept by the current Secretary to be turned over to the new Secretary at the end of their term.
- If Unit information is kept in a digital format, all information listed above should be copied to a thumb drive and that should be labeled by year and given to the next Secretary. It is recommended that the current year be kept on paper as well as digitally.
- Upon election the Secretary should become familiar with both the State Bylaws and your Unit bylaws. You should keep a copy available during all meetings.

Unit Treasurer

- Receive, record, and bank with a separate deposit slip all funds received by the organization.

- Keep records of all funds. Using spread sheets (manual or computer), keep income and expenses on separate sheets.
- Pay by check, as governed by the Bylaws, all approved and authorized bills submitted by Officers and committee members.
- Prepare with the Officers and/or Board of Directors an annual budget. Estimate income and expenses for all committees based on the activities planned for the coming year. Each Committee Chair should prepare in writing the anticipated funding required for the committee's activities as well as expected income.
- Prepare a financial report in writing to be presented at each meeting. Report should be in triplicate, one copy for the President, one for the Secretary and one for the Treasurer's files. Report should include the beginning balance in the bank account, total of all income and expenses, and the closing bank balance.
- Balance the bank statement monthly.
- Do not apply for a tax ID number, if you need this number contact the State executive treasurer
- Submit financials to state treasurer

Running a Meeting

Standard Agenda

A standard Agenda should be made for all meetings using the following format:

5. Standing committee reports.

7. Unfinished business.
8. New Business.

Parliamentary Procedures

Meetings should be run by rules which all members understand and accept

Duties of Chairperson

Duties of Members

- Stand and request the floor; wait to speak until recognized by the Chairperson.

- Name of the organization, date, place and time of meeting.
- Names of Board members both present and absent and their job titles.
 - A notation that the previous minutes were read, if there were any corrections to them, what those corrections were, and if the minutes were approved. After approval, a 2/3 vote is required to amend them.
 - All main motions with names of maker (person making second not needed), whether adopted or not, as well as all resolutions. Where count was made on a vote for action, count should be reported.
- Summarized reports of committees, elected delegates, etc.
- All appointments of committees, elected delegates, etc.
- Personal opinions or criticism should not be reported.

Tips on Conducting a Meeting Efficiently

Preparation

Mail out minutes of previous meeting with a carefully prepared agenda stating place and time of meeting, who will speak and length of time each speaker is allotted.

Notify those giving reports or speaking with either a telephone call or a personal note on their agenda.

Start on Time

Welcoming remarks should be made and guests introduced. Announce the reason for the meeting and what we expect to accomplish in the time that was announced. Keep to the agenda as closely as possible.

Call to Order

After opening the meeting, call for additional agenda items and add them to the agenda. This helps keep the meeting on track.

Determine if a quorum is present. Secretary to read minutes if not mailed in advance. Motion needed to approve and/or correct minutes.

Treasurer's report, if applicable.

Allow discussion after each motion is made and a second is received before voting on the measure. A voice vote is normally acceptable or a show of hands but in some instances a written ballot will be necessary.

Redirect discussion that is not relevant to the subject. Person conducting meeting should keep control at all times.

Finish on Time

Before ending check to see if there is any old business from previous meetings and/or new business that were not included in the agenda.

Announce time and place of the next meeting. Give out assignments where participants are expected to report or perform.

Close meeting with announcement that meeting is adjourned. Thank all for attending.

What Common terms mean in ROBERT'S RULES

AMEND the MOTION – Change a few words or phrases keeping the original intent. Maker of the original motion may agree, if so, then person who seconded the original motion must be asked if they agree. If both agree –restate the motion moving forward with debate

MOVE TO MAKE SUBSTITUTE MOTION – When you want to change more than a few words or phrases. State the way you want the motion to read. Must get a second and then both motions can be discussed at the same time. Body will vote on the motion they prefer.

MOVE TO COMMITTEE – You must state what Committee you want to move to and what action you want them to take. (i.e. I move we refer to Executive Committee to explore adding a new position). Requires a second and can be debated, but not amended. Majority vote carries

CALL FOR QUESTION OR MOVE THE PREVIOUS QUESTION - You feel you have heard enough, and everyone has had a chance to speak, and it is becoming repetitious; you “Call for the Question” you must have a second. When you call for the question, all debate will stop on the issue and body immediately votes on whether to stop debate. Whether to stop debate can be debated. You must have a 2/3 majority to stop debate; if not debate on the issue continues. If it is voted to stop debate, you must immediately vote.

POINT OF ORDER – If you believe that proper procedure is not being followed, you may interrupt to claim “Point of Order” – You state what you feel is wrong. (i.e., discussion is on an item not on the agenda). All discussion stops (NO DEBATE) while the President rules on the point. President will say point taken or point is not in order. If point is taken – discussion must stop. If point is not in order, President may state why, and discussion continues. President may consult another person for guidance if they desire. Point of Order and Appeal motions must be made immediately when issue occurs – Cannot be made later on.

APPEAL – If you do not feel the President ruled correctly on a point of order you must immediately say, I appeal the ruling or I move to overrule the chair’s ruling –You must have a second and if so at that time the ruling may be debated. This appeal is not amendable and after debate the Majority vote carries.

POINT OF PRIVILEGE - If there is a problem - too much noise, room temperature, lighting, side conversations, etc. You may interrupt and state Point of Privilege and state the problem. President addresses the issue and meeting continues.

MOVE TO TABLE - This must be used carefully. If you move to table, you should state the reason or time frame (i.e., I move to table until we find out if this is legal). Requires a second to the motion, then it is voted on. There is no debate. If an item is “laid on the table” and it is not moved to be “taken from the table” later in the same meeting or during the next meeting – at the end of the next meeting the issue dies. You should follow up to make sure it is moved from table.

MOVE TO TAKE FROM THE TABLE – This is motion to make if you want to discuss an item that has been tabled. It requires a second and cannot be debated nor amended. Once the majority votes in favor the item may be discussed again.

SUSPEND ROBERTS RULES – If you feel an agenda item needs to be discussed out of the presented agenda order you can make the motion to suspend Roberts Rules to consider item before moving on with the agenda. (i.e., I move we suspend Roberts Rules to discuss Item 5 on the agenda before we discuss item 4) You must have a second. This motion is not debatable or amendable. To pass you need a 2/3 vote.

Setting Up a Budget

A Budget should be the financial road map for the Unit and should be prepared at the beginning of the year by the Treasurer with guidance of the Officers and Committee Chairs. While it cannot always be completely accurate in all parts it should be the best “educated estimate” of future income and expenses of the Unit. When completed the budget should be presented to the governing body of the Unit for approval and adoption. Once adopted, the budget document removes the need to vote on each expenditure as long as the purpose and amount fall within the established budget.

Officers and Committee Chairs should submit a budget for their particular activities to the Treasurer as soon as they have been elected or chosen. The Treasurer can then combine these individual budgets into a master document that should anticipate most income and expenses.

Guidelines for Backcountry Horsemen Unit directors

As an elected Director for your Unit of BCHC you have certain duties and responsibilities to your Unit and to BCHC. Immediately upon your election (even if you are continuing from previous year), you must notify the BCHC Secretary of your Name, mailing address, email address and phone number.

You are required to attend two State meeting per year. These are usually held in October and February. Prior to these meetings you (and your Unit President) will receive agendas, back-up material, minutes, and hotel & location information. Upon receipt of this information it is your responsibility to review the material and decide what items you will likely be voting on at the meeting. Working with your Unit President (or Board) you should make certain that these items are placed on your Unit's next meeting agenda for discussion and direction on how you should vote. If you will not be having a unit meeting prior to the State meeting, discuss how to best contact your members for their input on how they feel you should vote. It is imperative that you vote as directed by your Unit membership, not on your personal feelings.

If you are unable to attend the State meetings, you must let your Unit President know that you will not be attending. The President must then notify the BCHC Secretary at least one day prior to the meeting as to the person that will carry your proxy. If this procedure is not followed, your Unit could lose their voting rights at the meeting. If your Unit has multiple Directors, you are only entitled to the number of votes as you have Directors present. If no one from your unit is able to attend, you may give your proxy to a Director from another unit. Also remember that any Unit missing two State meetings in a row may lose its sanction from BCHC.

In order for the correct person to receive meeting information it is important that the BCHC Secretary and the BCHC Membership Chair be notified of any changes in Directors or their email addresses.

If you or someone in your Unit is contacted by another organization to endorse, sponsor, or sign on to a document, comment or cause; please be aware that the Executive Board must be notified. Unit members should not authorized the use of the BCHC logo or name for any purpose unless there is approval by the Executive Board. If a Unit wants to lend their Unit name or logo, they can do so by a vote of their members as long as it is understood that the individual Unit is lending their name – not the BCHC.

MEETING CONDUCT

When arriving at the meeting, make sure that you sign in and receive you voting card. Only authorized Directors or persons with an authorized proxy will receive a voting card. During State meetings Roberts Rules apply. This means that you may only speak when recognized by the Chair. After a motion is made and seconded there will be discussion of that item before the vote is taken. (If there is no second, the motion dies.) When recognized by the Chair you may express your Unit's opinion, questions, comments, and concerns. The chair will try to recognize each Director who wants to speak before allowing a Director to speak a second time. If someone "Calls for the Question" we will take a vote to see if the majority wants to end discussion. If the majority wants to stop discussion, the Chair will then call for the vote; if they vote to continue discussion the vote will be delayed until all have spoken. If you do not feel proper procedure is being following; you may call "Point of Order" and when recognized by the Chair explain your objection. The Chair will rule on your objection.

We will only take action on items that are on the agenda. If you have something you feel should be on the agenda, you should submit the item in writing to the Executive Board at least 45 days prior to the meeting. Only the Executive Board can add items to the agenda.

You are welcome to attend the Executive Board meeting held prior to the State meeting. Be reminded that you are a guest at the Executive Board meeting and although the Executive Board holds their meeting in public it is not a public input meeting. You must be recognized by the Chair to speak. Again only items on the agenda will be discussed by the Executive Board.

EMAIL VOTING

The BCHC bylaws allow for email voting on items that may come up between meetings. Each Director will be notified of the maker and exact motion, the person who seconded and the time frame in which voting will be counted. It is therefore crucial that you keep the BCHC Secretary and BCHC Membership Chair informed of your correct email address. Only votes received from the Directors' recognized email will be counted. Votes received from other Officers or unknown email addresses will not count. Again it is important to consult with your membership as to how you should vote.

ADDITIONAL DUTIES OF STATE DIRECTORS

It shall additionally be the duty of each BCHC State Director to:

- (a) Act as a fiduciary. This means the State Director always puts BCHC Inc.'s interests ahead of his own and always acts in the best interest of the organization.
 - a. Carefully protect the interests of BCHC, Inc. by exercising his powers in good faith and refrain from doing anything that harms the corporation.
 - b. Make decisions in the best interest of BCHC, Inc., act with undivided loyalty, be fair and not seek to benefit personally.
 - c. Review BCHC's Bylaws and Articles of Incorporation to better understand the organization's mission and the roles and responsibilities of State Directors and officers.
 - d. Regularly attend and actively engage in State Board meetings and meetings of any committee upon which he serves.
 - e. Make informed decisions. Request and obtain all necessary background information and reports, if necessary.
 - f. Not be afraid to ask questions at State Board meetings or request that matters be decided at a later date to allow for more in-depth deliberation.
 - g. Proactively review budgets and financial reports. Ask questions to ensure understanding.

SELF-DEALING TRANSACTIONS

Each State Director of Backcountry Horsemen of California owes a duty of undivided loyalty to BCHC, Inc., is obligated to be fair, must always make decisions that are in the best interest of the organization, and must not seek to benefit personally from the activities or resources of BCHC in any self-dealing transaction.

Each State Director will annually sign and submit to the State BCHC Secretary a Conflict of Interest/Self-Dealing form in accordance with BCHC Policy Manual section # 0221-2.

Unit Trail Work Activities

Working with Land Managers

Function:

The trail work portion of a Unit is the strong arm of the association in conducting volunteer projects. The importance of lending a hand in the maintenance and improvement of the recreation resource of the forest, parks and all public lands cannot be overstated. Such projects not only serve to preserve and protect the trails, pastures, fences, campsites and wildlife, but they are a source of great personal satisfaction for those taking part.

When you work shoulder to shoulder with another member for a day or two, you will have made a friend or enhanced a friendship. Every Unit should have organized work parties that welcome any member, or the Unit may encourage members to go off on their own. Contact your agency folks early for their suggestions. Be sure to report the results of your efforts to the ~~Public~~ Volunteer Service Coordinator (usually the State Second Vice President).

In this day and age of governmental budget cuts and continued heavy use of the back country it is time for the private sector to lend a helping hand to those who manage and care for the wilderness. It has become apparent that government alone will have a more difficult time managing the forests with less and less money allocated by Congress. With the help of the private sector, in many cases the return in services and work can be double. The alternative is that services will be discontinued, and work will be delayed or canceled.

Communication with the proper governmental employee is the beginning. In the case of the U.S. Forest Service, contact with the recreational officer of a given district is a good start. The person doing the contacting should be a person knowledgeable about BCHC and the BCHCA/USFS Memorandum of Understanding as well as one who has a positive personality. After presenting who you are and who you represent, establish credibility. The purpose is to help the agency with the management of the resource. Explain not only Backcountry Horsemen are knowledgeable about the use of stock in the back country but we are also involved with and understand basic environmental care of the wilderness. Examples of previous work projects done by other Units in other districts may help establish credibility. Above all, explain the purpose of your help is to extend the funds allocated for the back country. Become involved in the planning and development of district wilderness plans. Representation at meetings can be time consuming and frustrating but this is a means of showing the agency that BCHC is serious in their efforts and again establishes credibility.

After establishing a good relationship with one individual, you can, with their help, extend your communication to other members of the district. This means getting to know the district ranger and other essential personnel. A very important person is the ranger in charge of trails and trail maintenance. This is where we, as horsemen, can be of real service with our horses and mules.

After establishing a working relationship with this person, offer to set up work projects during the year. As the needs of the wilderness become known these work projects can be assigned to BCHC. After receiving work projects for the year, a Unit might select a foreman and vice foreman for each project. With the dates set for each project, the foreman will contact the Unit resource coordinator who has a list of all the working resources of the Unit. The foreman will then set up the project. This includes costs, food, equipment and logistics. Once this pattern has been established and some successful projects completed, the agency will look to BCHC as being an essential part of caring for the wilderness. The partnership has been established. Remember that no work should take place without having a volunteer agreement in place with the public entity. This is imperative to protect you, your Unit, and BCHC from liability,

With credibility established, BCHC can be of service in many ways. An example: The U.S. Forest Service has asked various BCHC Units to train their wilderness rangers in the use of horses in the back country. In conjunction with the U.S. Forest Service, these Units have demonstrated a low impact horse camp at a major trailhead over a major holiday to increase exposure to the public. Educating the public is a very high priority both for the U.S. Forest Service and Backcountry Horsemen of California. The BCHC Education Committee has developed a number of educational pamphlets that are available online (www.bchcalifornia.org).

This literature can be handed out at U.S. Forest Service offices when people pick up their wilderness permits.

A large U.S. Forest Service representation is now seen at BCHC state Rendezvous conventions. This is the result of a lot of effort to build mutual trust and respect between BCHC and the U.S. Forest Service. This relationship has allowed BCHC to learn and gain invaluable knowledge while helping to manage the back country. A good working relationship between governmental agencies and BCHC can only help the wilderness.

Methods for Developing Contacts with Government Agencies

Select a Member with Good Communication Skills:

This member will act as a liaison between that Unit of the BCHC and the targeted government agency. He/she will be responsible for selecting an appropriate government agency employee, initiating contact and developing ongoing interaction between BCHC and the agency. Good oral and written communication skills in addition to tact and diplomacy will be helpful in developing contacts and building good rapport.

Make Initial Contact:

Begin by defining the geographical area your Unit intends to be active in. Next determine what division of the agency is responsible for that area (i.e., a particular district in a National Forest).

Initial contact can be made in person, by phone or with a letter, or using a combination of these. The BCHC representative may begin by contacting the receptionist at the division/district office and asking who deals with trails and back country wilderness areas, then contacting that person. It may be advisable to also send a letter to the District Ranger (as the case would be when contacting the Forest Service) or District Superintendent (when contacting State Parks), since most people who are in charge like to know about new developments in their jurisdiction!

Unless the agency is already somewhat familiar with BCHC, it will be necessary to begin by briefly describing who the Backcountry Horsemen of California is and why we exist. Emphasize the organization's commitment to preserving the back country and working cooperatively with other user groups (for example, Back Country Horsemen of America, the U.S. Forest Service, the National Park Service, Bureau of Land Management). To be effective the BCHC needs to understand the organizational makeup of the public agencies.

Another tool for developing either a contact or general awareness of the BCHC is to send the District Ranger/Superintendent a complimentary BCHC Newsletter (local, state and/or national) and continue this practice regularly.

Invite Chosen Representative to a Meeting:

Once an agency representative has been invited to attend a Unit meeting, make sure that particular meeting emphasizes educational functions and low impact back country use as advocated by BCHC.

Invite Chosen Representative on Back Country Trip:

Inviting agency representatives on a backcountry trip will be your best tool for an icebreaker. Keep the trip short and cater to the agency employee. Be sure to include lots of good food and gentle stock. If the representative does not ride, offer him/her the opportunity to walk while the BCHC packs in his/her belongings. Use this informal, casual time to emphasize and clearly define the goals and accomplishments of the BCHC. Begin to suggest what kind of relationship between BCHC and the agency you are striving for, i.e., work projects such as trail head improvement or trail repair, packing clinics, educational seminars, etc. It will be more effective at this point to suggest projects that are appealing and beneficial to the agency as well as stock users. Stay open to suggestions and ideas from the agency employee. Recruit help via a committee to plan and execute the trip.

Invite Representative to an Additional BCHC Meeting:

As soon as possible invite the agency representative to another BCHC meeting to follow up the backcountry trip and begin formalized action on ideas presented during the trip. Consider offering a complimentary BCHC membership. This presumes that the previous steps have successfully established positive rapport and working relationship with the targeted agency representative. If not, the BCHC member will need to continue to do things similar to that which is outlined.

Publicity and Public Relations

Improving the image of the Backcountry Horsemen should be a primary goal for all members, Units, Officers, and the State Board. All horsemen must work to improve the way they are perceived by other users. This is important in order to offset the negative publicity promulgated by individuals and organizations that look on stock use in the back country as damaging. The most effective way to counter such information is to work hard to see that positive information is disseminated as widely as possible.

There are several avenues available for use in striving to improve our image. The most obvious is the news media, i.e., newspapers, magazines, the Internet, radio, and television. Less obvious possibilities for improving our image are through public meetings, educational events, social events, and outreach programs to fellow users.

Getting Organized

Someone in the organization or Unit should be assigned the continuous task of developing an ongoing public relations program. That individual could be the President, Secretary, Newsletter Editor, or a specially assigned public relations person.

Events

Exposure at public events is an excellent way to enhance the image of our organization. The message conveyed in a public place must be positive and reflect our position as responsible horsemen. Possible events and activities include:

- The annual BCHC Rendezvous
- Informational booths at fairs, rodeos, and horse shows
- Parades and packing demonstrations
- Clinics and workshops open to the public
 - Furnish speakers and programs for organizations such as Lion Clubs Rotary, and youth groups
 - Regular releases to the media of articles and announcements of interest to readers, viewers, and listeners in California

Possible Topics for Articles

Anything that is newsworthy is a possible topic for a news release or article. Some examples are:

- Results of Unit elections including an informational write up on one or more of the Officers. Include photographs for maximum impact.
- Article on a volunteer project in the area. Include with the account a description of the benefits to the agency or the community. Also include action photographs.
- Announcement of future events of interest to the general public such as a guest speaker at a meeting or a “Leave No Trace” clinic.
- Article about environmental concerns in the area.
- A “how to do it” article of interest to the readership of the publication to which the article is submitted.

Using the Media

Most media appreciate receiving articles that are well written, timely and newsworthy. Most media welcome articles which can be used as presented without much required in the way of editing. The most important points covered by the release should be covered in the first paragraph (no more than two paragraphs). These points should then be covered in more detail in paragraphs to follow. The story should be complete; keeping in mind that conciseness is much better than a long, rambling piece. Including a photograph will improve chances of publication.

Composing an Effective News Release or Article

To be effective, your article must include the 4 W’s and an H: WHO, WHAT, WHERE, WHY AND HOW?

The article should be arranged so that the most important points are presented first. A news release should begin with the name of the organization, contact person (including address and phone number) and a catchy, short headline that summarizes the topic of the release.

Be sure to include pertinent information such as cost of admission or tickets and contacts for additional information including phone number.

Address your release to the “News Editor” and send it to each newspaper and other publications in your area. When possible, try to learn the name of the News Editor and send it, or hand it, directly to that person. There is a much better chance that it will be read and published. This information is readily available on-line.

With the completion of the first draft ask yourself the following: Is it arranged with the most important information first? Does the release address the four W’s and the H?

Is the article concise?

Is each sentence an important part of the whole? Does each sentence work hard for you?

Are there any misspellings or typos? Are quotes appropriate and accurate?

There are many reasons that a story or article is not published, some of which are: The release was not important as news; the article was not timely; the information was inaccurate; the story was too self-serving or there was not enough information; the release was not sent to the proper person or not targeted to the editor. Often there were other articles more important, and space was not available. Sometimes there was not enough contact information for the reporter or editor to follow up on the release.

Plan your release so that it is targeted to the audience you want to reach and the message it contains is suitable for that audience. Determine the purpose of your release and then address that purpose. Your purpose could be to educate the public, raise funds, gain support, promote the organization, etc. In crafting your message remember to: Be Clear, Be Simple and Be Direct. Is it News? Does the story have an “angle”, “hook” or “spin?” These are the things that attract a reporter’s or editor’s attention.

DO IT:

- Send a news release to make an announcement, react to breaking news, or to state your group’s position on a policy. When issued on a regular basis, quality news releases help you develop name familiarity, credibility, and a reputation as an expert.
- Send a news advisory to invite the media to a news conference or media event (rally, fundraiser, book signing, etc.)

- Hold a news conference only for your most significant and important news.
- Schedule an interview on a radio/TV talk show to develop a single topic in depth.
- Write a letter to the editor to publicize a point of view about an issue in the news. This is an important tool for responding to a topic in a timely manner.
- Submit an opinion editorial to a newspaper. Use it to develop a single topic in depth. Opinion editorials are a good way to reach public leaders and decision makers as well as thousands of other constituents or members of your community.
- Send a Public Service Announcement (PSA). Radio and television stations offer free airtime for community announcements. Use a PSA to publicize an event or meeting, describe a service, or to educate the public.

Unit Public Lands Alerts

BCHC Hot Line/Alert System

- The BCHC Hotline/Alert process should inform all members of issues that could affect them.
- Information will include a concise description of the issue and summary of arguments both pro and con (if available), so that local Units and members can respond individually.
- The Alert process should encourage a flood of communications without the constraints of speaking for the organization.
- Every Local Unit Public Lands Chairperson is responsible to track issues of local concern that affect them, and to inform local Unit members and encourage written and/or verbal communication with the appropriate entity.
- Local Units need prior approval only for position statement if they take a position contrary to previously approved state position, or if the position statement is contrary to the philosophy and purpose of the BCHC.

- If the Local Unit Public Lands Chairperson feels that an issue is of such significance that the state should take a position on the issue, that person is to contact the State Vice President of Public Lands to initiate the response protocol.
- Attend the State Public Lands Committee meetings (you can only vote at Public Lands meeting unless you are also a unit director) Attend Unit meetings, and any other Public Lands opportunities, as often as possible.

BCHC Protocol for Position Statements

- Any issue affecting the BCHC may be raised by any member to the local Unit Public Chairperson.
- If that Chairperson feels that this issue is significant, s/he is to contact the Vice President or Co-Vice Presidents the BCHC Public Lands.
- The Public Lands Vice President or Co-Vice Presidents will then contact the regional representatives and various Units to seek their opinions on the issue.
- If the majority of the regional Unit representatives agree it is an important and significant issue, the issue will be taken to the BCHC Executive Committee by the Co-Vice Presidents of Public Lands for review. If the Executive Committee determines the issue is important and significant it will be taken to the BCHC Board of Directors for a consensus vote determining whether an Action Alert is necessary. An Action Alert will be sent to the assigned representative in each Unit (usually the Unit President and/or the Public Lands Chairperson). Action Alerts can also be sent to all members with a current email on file by the Membership Communications person.
- The designated people in each Unit are responsible for asking Officers and members to respond to the Action Alert. It is suggested that one copy of each response be sent to the state Public Lands Vice President or Co-Vice Presidents.
- Once a position statement is approved by the process described in #4 and is published in an Action Alert, that position statement, with accompanying documents, will be made available via the BCHC web page on the Internet (www.bchcalifornia.org), Unit publications, and the Backcountry News (state newsletter).

Unit BCHC Education Committee Structure

The future of public lands depends on how the users conduct themselves. With ever-increasing demand on the resources, it is imperative that users conduct themselves in a “Gentle” way, applying Leave No Trace techniques, so as to leave as little evidence of their passing as is possible. Education of BCHC members, as well as others, is a major thrust of the Backcountry Horsemen.

Unit Education Chairperson

Each Unit should select an Education Chairperson, or co-Chairs. The Education Chair of a Unit is primarily charged with teaching the techniques and ethics involved in responsible use of stock, the trails, and the lands we travel through. These Unit Education Chairpersons comprise the State Education Committee.

The following is a suggested list of duties designed to assist each individual Unit’s Education Chair:

- Become familiar with Leave No Trace/Leave No Trace principles and techniques.
- Attend the State Education Committee meetings (you can only vote at Education meeting unless you are also a unit director) Attend Unit meetings, and any other Education opportunities, as often as possible.
- Attend the state Education Committee meetings, Unit meetings, and any other educational opportunities, as often as possible.
- Collect and/or develop and disseminate educational material for use by the general membership of the local Unit.
- Develop and distribute to the state BCHC newsletter (Backcountry News), current news and information concerning the Unit.
- Organize educational workshops at the Unit level.

- Maintain a list of contacts and/or resources. Examples include but are not limited to: Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts special youth programs, speakers from other horse groups (ETI, National Horse Council, ACTHA), and public agency personnel.
- Keep track of unit Volunteer youth program participants in their unit for the purpose of youth activities and membership expiration dates.

Corrective Action Committee

The Incident Corrective Action Committee (ICAC) is comprised of the BCHC President, 1st Vice President, 2nd Vice President, Vice President of Education and the three Safety Officers. The purpose of the ICAC is to investigate every incident, both packing and sawyer. The Safety Officers investigate the incident and develop a report and recommendations for presentation to the ICAC. The ICAC reviews the Safety Officers' initial report and recommendations and develops corrective actions. These corrective actions will be provided to the involved unit president(s) for implementation. The report will then be rewritten to remove all identifying names/places and sent to all BCHC unit presidents as an information report, displayed on the BCHC website and published in the BCHC newsletter, if deemed appropriate. Records of all reports and corrective actions will be maintained by the Safety Officers. The Safety Officers must be very familiar with the Forest Service FSH 6709.11 Health and Safety Code Handbook.

Educational Programs and Publications

There are several programs and publications designed to assist Education Chairs as well as general members.

These include:

- Officer Orientation
- “Leave No Trace” Program at the annual Rendezvous
- Education classes, both general and certification
- “Leave No Trace” Pins Program for those attending certified programs: Green, Silver, Silver Rider and Silver Pack Animals
- “Leave No Trace” Children’s Program
- Education Summary Sheets for state BCHC and Back Country Horsemen of America - each Unit Education Chairperson is responsible for keeping records and turning an annual
- Education Volunteer Report to be added to the Unit’s Volunteer Hours Report (Education/LNT column) at the end of each year.
- Publications:
 - Leadership/Officer Training Manual
 - Leave No Trace (LNT) Program for the Rendezvous
 - Pack & Saddle Stock Camping Manual
 - Youth Program Manual
 - Wilderness Rider Training Guide
 - Flyers on various topics: i.e., Who We Are and What We Do, Bare Bottom Basics, High Country Manners, Black Bear Sense, How to Have a Safe and Enjoyable Trail Ride, Lost Rider, Highlines in the Backcountry, Equine First Aid, Living with Rattlesnakes. etc.
- Slide Show
- Master of Leave No Trace
- Wilderness Rider Program – a partnership with BCHC, U.S. Forest Service, National Park Service and Bureau of Land Management.

BCHC Education Committee

Function

The BCHC Education Committee is responsible for gathering, organizing and producing educational materials to be used by BCHC Units and Education Chairpersons. The Education Committee also plans and conducts statewide educational programs such as Leave No Trace / Leave No Trace, represents each

Unit to the state organization and votes on policies, programs, and other education-related endeavors.

The BCHC Education Committee makes recommendations to the State Board of Directors.

The Board has final vote and approval on any and all items coming from the state Education Committee.

Officer Leadership Training Program

The state Education Chair or Co-Vice Presidents will offer leadership/officer orientation training annually, usually in the first quarter, at Rendezvous. The number of training locations is optional, however, based upon the needs of BCHC Units. The goal of this training is to improve BCHC leaders' skills and abilities to operate local Units and strengthen the organization.

Organization

The BCHC Education Committee is comprised of one delegate per Unit and is presided over by State Board elected Vice President or Co-Vice Presidents of Education.

The Vice President or Co-Vice Presidents of Education are authorized to select members for the Education Steering Committee from the BCHC Education Committee.

Meetings

Leave No Trace Education Program

The Leave No Trace Program conducted at the annual BCHC Rendezvous provides educational opportunities for participants to gain awareness and knowledge in how to use stock in the backcountry and practice responsible wild land ethics. The Leave No Trace Program is intended to help participants develop a sense of stewardship and pride toward their behavior while visiting the backcountry.

The state Education Steering Committee will strive to ensure continuity, consistency, and integrity in the Leave No Trace Program at each year's Rendezvous and, therefore, is in charge of obtaining speakers/instructors for the Core Classes. The hosting Unit(s) is in charge of coordinating the remaining educational seminars. Leave No Trace Points will be awarded based upon attendance in the nine Core Class categories:

The Leave No Trace Core Classes are:

- Plan and prepare

- Dispose of waste properly
- Travel and camp on durable surfaces
- Minimize Campfire impacts
- Respect wildlife
- Leave what you find
- Be considerate of others

The first class, Plan and Prepare is taught every year. The remaining classes are taught split between two at Rendezvous. If able all classes can be held annually.

A pamphlet on Leave No Trace is available at the Rendezvous. Also, the booklet “Leave No Trace Program for the Rendezvous” is available and explains the program in detail.

Wilderness Rider Program

Basic Organization

The Wilderness Rider Program is a partnership between Backcountry Horsemen of California, the National Park Service, the USDA Forest Service and the Bureau of Land Management.

Wilderness Riders are trained stock users who have made a commitment to educating others about the value of wild lands and the importance of Leave No Trace / Leave No Trace skills. The Wilderness Rider Program is governed by the Backcountry Horsemen of California 501C- 3 Executive Board. The Wilderness Riders work as advisors to the 501C-3 Board, working to better align BCHC’s education efforts.

Wilderness Rider Steering Committee

The Wilderness Rider Steering Committee is comprised of seven (7) members: BCHC Vice President of Education (or Co-Vice Presidents), two agency representatives, a Master of LNT Advisor, a secretary and two members of the Wilderness Rider cadre who serve a two-year term. The Master of LNT Advisor and Secretary positions are appointed by the Chairman or Co-Vice Presidents. The two members from the Wilderness Rider cadre are drawn at random along with two alternates. If either of the Wilderness Rider members cannot finish their terms, an alternate will step in to serve the remainder of the existing term. The Chairman of the Wilderness Rider Steering Committee is authorized to appoint any advisors necessary to assist in the fields of planning, but the advisors do not have voting power.

The Wilderness Rider Steering Committee oversees and administers the Wilderness Rider recruitment, training and instruction (including locating an appropriate venue, teachers, and cooks), the Rendezvous gathering, and other training events such as Refresher Courses. All business concerning the Wilderness Rider Program goes through this Committee, such as Code of Conduct and reward incentives (year-end awards and Wilderness Rider Round-Up), and the Wilderness Rider vests and shirts program.

Wilderness Rider / Masters Trainers

The Wilderness Rider Course is taught by BCHC Wilderness Riders who are also graduates of the Master of LNT program and usually one Agency Representative.

Membership Management

Importance of a Membership Committee

Members are the heart and soul of any organization. How do we obtain new and quality members? How do we keep the quality members that we have?

The fact the BCHC has become an authority on horses and mules in the back country will draw a certain amount of interest from people who use the wilderness. A standard that seems to draw the most attention is an annual pack clinic. These are usually one day affairs and draw large crowds of interested people. The cost to attend this event can be the cost of a membership in BCHC. This means every person who is not already a member will become a member if they attend the clinic. Member admission can be a nominal fee or free. Having the clinic early in the year will help in several ways. First, new members will have a chance to become incorporated into the organization for participation in work parties and activities during the summer and fall. Second, for non-experienced members, this gives them time to receive training at the pack clinic and any other activities before the year's work projects begin in earnest.

Once you have a new member, making them feel part of the organization is very important. Shortly after the pack clinic, hold a meeting of new members. The meeting can discuss the type of activities BCHC does. Philosophy of wilderness care is another important topic. Types of packing equipment can be explained. Types of pack animals can be discussed. Types of hitches are also a fun subject. How to get started packing into the back country is another topic. Some people feel packing is beyond their abilities. To begin with, this may be true, but after becoming involved, most usually can't wait for the next excuse to use their horses and mules. The main thing is to encourage involvement.

Unit activities help keep interest. Have several trail rides. This is good for getting to know other members and legging up stock for the work ahead each season. During some of the trail rides, have a ride where some of the animals must be packed. This will help beginning members and beginning animals alike. Work parties are not the time to train animals to pack! One Unit puts on a trail ride and barbecue to follow. Each rider receives a shirt and/or hat for participating.

Members from other Units are encouraged to participate. This builds Unit interaction and cooperation.

Exhibits at public events help gain BCHC exposure and can be a lot of fun. Give a packing demonstration or two. Having a gentle pack animal at a gathering of people will almost always draw a large crowd. This gives the opportunity to explain what BCHC is and to teach packing. You can obtain several new members using this technique.

Unit meetings are very important to the membership. These meetings keep the members in touch.

Having speakers on various topics is another good idea for monthly meetings in the off-season and will keep interest up as well as teach new techniques and ideas. A tack sale or trade is another fun activity to conduct at Unit meetings.

At the end of each year the annual dinner is something everyone seems to look forward to. This is a good time to elect and present the Officers for the coming year. A complete review of the past year's activities is always fun. It also builds confidence for new members to see what they accomplished. Slides and or videos are very helpful.

Having a certificate or merit award for project leaders is something everyone appreciates. These can be presented by the U.S.F.S. or the Unit itself. Finally, the annual dinner is a great place to present the Top Hand Award and the member being recommended for the Ben York Trail Blazer Award.

Establishing these ideas as a pattern for Unit activities and encouraging new ideas builds a strong Unit and helps retain quality members.

State Membership Management Policies

All membership applications must be sent directly to the BCHC Vice President of Membership address for Processing.

Any application collected by an individual unit should immediately be forwarded to the BCHC Vice President of Membership along with the dues check attached. Note membership information on the envelope.

Do not send cash. When cash is collected the cash can be retained by the Unit but a check equal to the original amount kept should be included when submitting applications.

The Unit's portion of the dues will be rebated around the first of each month. One half of the individual and family membership fee is returned to the Unit to which the member belongs.

The VP of Membership provides each Unit with a monthly activity report which will show changes of address, the amount of dues paid, when posted, and other information necessary to keep the Unit's roster in agreement with the state membership list.

The VP of Membership will send a reminder notice 45 days prior to a member's expiration date. Members are deemed delinquent one month after their expiration date and will be dropped from the membership lists.

Upon request by phone, e-mail or regular mail the VP of Membership will provide any Unit with an updated printout of that Unit's membership roster.

At reasonable cost the VP of Membership will supply mailing labels to any Unit requesting such service.

The BCHC mailing list is protected and may not be used for non-BCHC business without permission from the State Board of Directors. Add: In addition, there is a unit membership list available on-line at our website that are password protected. There is also a list of our entire membership when a unit needs to know if the attending person is truly a member of BCHC.

Newsletter

A newsletter is the most important means of communicating with members! This is true at any level of the Backcountry Horsemen organization from the national down to local Units. The Backcountry News, BCHC's state publication, strives to keep our membership apprised of activities and actions of the various Units as well as offering articles and reports of general interest to members throughout the state. Most Units publish a Unit-specific newsletter which serves to keep members aware of what is going on in their Unit as well as including articles of local interest. The national and state newsletters are published quarterly and frequency of publication of Unit newsletters varies from monthly to quarterly.

There are important elements that should be included in each issue of a Unit newsletter as well as some optional topics that might be considered by any editor. Above all, the publication should be neat, tidy and nice appearing. A publication that is well-organized and keeps the reader's interest at a high level is more apt to be read and appreciated. A copy should be mailed to BCHC President, BCHC and BCHCA Newsletter Editors, Max and Irene Cochran newsletter judge, and any others deemed appropriate.

Elements that should be included are:

- A masthead or banner that includes: The name of the publication, date, issue number, name of Unit (of the Backcountry Horsemen of California), and the name of the Editor (optional).
- A Unit calendar of events including the dates of major state events such as the Rendezvous, State Board meetings, etc.
- Names and phone numbers (even email and snail mail addresses) of all Officers and Committee Chairpersons.
- A replica of the official BCHC Membership Application form.
- A statement of the purpose of the publication, who publishes it and the name and address of the editor. This statement can include any disclaimer that the editor judges appropriate.
- A message or letter from the Unit President.
- Recognition of or welcome to new members.

Some optional topics that could be considered by the editor are:

- Committee reports such as Education, Public/Volunteer Service, Public Lands Liaison, etc.
- Articles recognizing a member or officer for achievements above and beyond the call of duty.
- Interviews of agency folks in the Unit's area.
- Articles of human interest.
- Descriptions of special trips or trails to ride.

It is important to encourage members to submit articles they feel would be of interest to other members. The editor should reserve the right to edit any submission. Remember, concise articles are more readable than long rambling ones that tend to intimidate the reader.

The Max and Irene Cochran Award is presented each year to the Unit and its Editor that, in the opinion of the judge, stands out above all others. See more information under Awards category.

Liability Insurance

BCHC Limited Liability Insurance

Our insurance is third party liability only. It does not cover members or their stock.

When is an Insurance Certificate required?

An insurance certificate is needed:

- When the owner of a facility where a BCHC event is being held, requests the coverage it provides.
- When the owner of a facility or an administrator of a public property requests to be named as “coinsured”.
- When the BCHC participates in any activity such as a BCHC group ride where nonmembers are invited to join the BCHC ride, a parade, fair exhibit, packing demonstration, work project, etc., where there is any chance that animals could make contact with anyone that is not a member of the BCHC.

An Insurance Certificate is not needed for an event where there is no chance of the public being in the proximity of any of the animals such as meetings, dinners, parties, etc.

How does one request an insurance certificate for additional public days?

The Unit Vice President or designated Insurance Director needs to contact the BCHC 1st Vice President Insurance Director with a completed BCHC Request for Additional Public Days form which is available on BCHC web site under BCHC Forms. The BCHC 1st Vice President will review for completeness and accuracy, the form is then emailed to BCHC's Insurance Provider. The Certificate of Insurance is issued by the BCHC's Insurance Provider and emailed to the BCHC 1st Vice President. The BCHC 1st Vice President will email a copy to the Unit Vice President or designated Insurance Director.

It is strongly recommended that this process be started 2 weeks in advance of any event where Insurance is needed. This insures everything is in place by the time the event takes place.

Insurance provides protection against liability. We expect our insurance carrier to protect us. BCHC feels we need to do everything possible to protect our carrier. Guidelines to protect BCHC and the insurance carrier are found at the bottom of the certificate request.

Each Unit should establish an insurance coordinator known to the BCHC Insurance Director.

The Unit's Vice President or designated insurance Director should contact the State 1st Vice President Insurance Director for clarification and direction when there is any doubt. The same process is used for the Request Form for Additional Insured. Please do not suggest to an individual or agency that BCHC will supply additional insured on request as that can increase BCHC potential liability. BCHC Education Fund Inc. has an additional policy to cover children's events. Contact our 1st VP before you schedule any kid-event!

Only apply for Additional Insured upon the request from property owner, Government Agency or facility.

Please go to BCHCALIFORNIA.ORG for insurance forms and event waivers

Rendezvous -State Board Responsibilities

After numerous years of Rendezvous we wanted to outline specific areas where the State Executive Board members have responsibilities:

State President – Must grant authority to Rendezvous Committee Chair to sign contracts for Rendezvous. The president will also be the final word on any issues that may arise.

1st Vice President- (Insurance) – will coordinate with the committee to be sure that insurance coverage is completed and any additional coverage is provided. This would include special coverage for trail rides, golf carts, or other venue requirements.

They need to report back to the committee chair until insurance requirements are finalized.

Vice President(s) of Education – As Rendezvous is an Educational event, the VP of Education will coordinate with the selected Unit Rendezvous Committee. Will provide a list of LNT classes to be presented by Wilderness Riders and assist with suggestions/scheduling of other classes, presentations, etc. They will also select which classes will count for Gentle Use points. They will also take care of education awards and Gentle Use/LNT programs.

Vice President of Youth Education – will coordinate and advise the committee about various youth activities that are planned during Rendezvous. Some may have special requirements or additional insurance may be required. They will work with the committee and the 1st VP to work out any insurance issues.

State Secretary or VP of Membership will handle the registration and coordinate with the committee to prepare the registration packet.

They will need input on how many meals and/or concert tickets can be sold. They will also maintain spreadsheets to keep track of registration counts, meals, camping, income, etc. They will communicate to the committee weekly on the number breakdown based on registrations received. Near the end of the event numbers will be correlated with ticket counts and given to the State Treasurer for payment of expenses. The Secretary and/or Membership Chair will man the Registration Trailer from Thursday until the end of the event.

State Treasurer – Will coordinate all auctions, live, silent, or other as desired by the committee. Treasurer will provide paperwork, bid cards, and process all payments. Committee will provide the help for set-up and during the auction and payment process.

The State Treasurer must receive all monies before, during and after Rendezvous. All bills, monetary donations and other income must be sent to the Treasurer for accounting purposes. No Rendezvous money is to be deposited in a Unit account due to 501c3 rules. The State Treasurer and/or State Secretary must receive all tickets (meals, concert, wine tasting, raffle stubs) after each activity is over so they can be counted and recorded for accounting purposes.

Rendezvous-Unit Responsibilities

This is a checklist of responsibilities for every Unit of BCHC. These responsibilities apply whether your Unit attends the event or not.

- ✓ Sell Raffle Tickets – Tickets will be given to your Unit at the October meeting. Please sell as many as possible. The Ticket stubs, unsold tickets, and money is due at the Registration Trailer at Rendezvous along with the completed accounting form no later than NOON ON SATURDAY OF RENDEZVOUS. If no one in your Unit is attending Rendezvous you must mail ticket stubs and money to the person doing registration two weeks prior to rendezvous. They can also be brought to the February State Meeting if you feel you cannot sell any more tickets.
- ✓ Provide an auction item – The auction item should have a value equal to $2 per members of your Unit. If no one is attending Rendezvous from your Unit, you could arrange for a neighboring Unit to take it, or sent a check to Lynn Joiner (state treasurer) and she will shop the vendors at Rendezvous and purchase an item for the auction.
- ✓ Provide beer and/or wine – It has become very popular at the beer and wine tasting to have beer and wine from all over California at the tasting. If you can bring a case of beer and two or three bottle of wine that are special to your area of California it makes the event more exciting. If the committees able to secure a brewery or winery to host the event we will let you know not to bring beer and wine.
- ✓ Volunteer – Ask your Unit to commit to help with a specific event, class or presentation. Your Unit can sponsor awards, or supplies for an event like dutch oven, packing contests, trail trials, etc. If you sponsor an event you may hang your Unit banner in that area.

Enjoy Rendezvous !

Rendezvous-Lessons Learned

1. The state education committee has a Rendezvous detailed how to document.
2. One of your first orders of business is to decide on a theme and secure an artist to interpret that theme. Until you have this in place it is difficult to get quotes on programs, posters, flyers or t-shirts.
3. Do not sign a contract for a specific number of meals. We pay for meals based on a ticket count ONLY. We do not pay on a plate count. Check and see if they include a gratuity in their price and what that amount is. Provide servers instead of self-serve. Find out when they want the count and how many meals over that count they are willing to provide. We usually request at least a 10% overage, but 15% is better. We can pay for overage if they require us to.
4. Don't give complimentary anything. Once you start it is hard to know where to draw the line. If you want to provide dinners for someone or

- some group, ask a Unit to sponsor them. If you are using CCC workers determine beforehand if you will feed them and how you will fund it.
5. Do not give advertisements or sponsorships, etc. to anyone who wants to trade for “value” unless it is a physical item we can use. (i.e.” I used a lot of paper and ink to take the minutes and I want a full page ad for my business.” This is a Rendezvous expense and should be submitted for reimbursement.)
 6. If a donation is not monetary, donor should tell us the value so we can determine level of sponsorship.
 7. All expenses must be submitted to the Treasurer for payment or reimbursement. This is the only way we can track expenses. No expenses should be taken in trade for advertisement or donation. Bills are to be submitted no later than 60 days at close of Event.
 8. Try to solicit enough sponsors to pay for the venue, at a minimum.
 9. Sell enough advertisements in the program to pay for the program (at a minimum). Limit your print run on the program. 400 to 500 programs are what we have used at the last couple Rendezvous with some left over for showing to new advertisers the next year. It is highly suggested you leave the schedule out of the program and print it at the last minute as an insert
 10. Raffle items should be donated to maximize profits.
 11. Have posters, flyers and raffle tickets ready to hand out to all Units at the October or at latest February State Board Meeting.
 12. Since every County, Fairgrounds, or venue seems to have different rules regarding alcohol, you need to carefully find out what the regulations are and what we need to do to comply with the regulations.
